

Please be aware that on class trips to museums as well as in class presentations of Masters of Photography occasionally some pictures containing nudity may be exhibited or displayed. This is generally considered tasteful nudity by highly respected artists and photographers and is in no way considered pornographic in the art world. However, if for any reason you have objections to your child viewing this material I completely understand. Simply do not sign the form below and your child will be excused to study in the library during these short presentations.

Thank you for your attention.
